

Becoming a Foster Carer for a sick, injured or very young animal is an incredibly rewarding experience for all involved. Not only does it provide cats and dogs who require a bit of extra TLC time to recuperate away from the shelter; it gives carers a deep sense of fulfilment in knowing they have helped a cat or dog get a new start to life.

Submitted an application to become a foster carer?

The application process can take anywhere from 4–8 weeks, depending on the number of applicants we have at any one time.

Fostering can be a fun and enriching experience for both you and the animal. It's also an alternative way for you to volunteer in your own home and give back to your community. Many of our carers find fostering to be a fantastic way to enjoy a cat or dog's company if they are not in a position to make a lifetime commitment right now.

At the Home, we often have animals who are in need of extra attention and care before they are suitable for adoption. They may be underweight, recovering from surgery, or illness, underage or participating in a behaviour rehabilitation program.

We run a proactive foster care program to give these animals a temporary home away from the shelter, where they can rehabilitate and recover in safe and relaxed surrounds.

Animals heal faster in a stress-free environment, and a home is the perfect place for them to get one-on-one interaction and the love they need to grow and or get well.

Here at The Lost Dogs' Home, we have a dedicated Foster Care Coordinator who will match your capabilities with the foster animal's needs. We are always looking for new carers to participate in our gratifying program, so if you have any further questions after reading the information below, please contact our program coordinator on (03) 9321 8786 or email foster@dogshome.com.
